John V. Priest, Jr., while cranking one of the Priest-Behrings delivery autos, had his arm broken yesterday. The usual mishap, backfiring or kicking caused the accident.

Robert C. Crow, insurance agent and former postmaster of Caruthersville, who disappeared so mysteriously from the Pontiac hotel in St. Louis last December, has been found as an enlisted soldier in the army. An insurance company in which he held a policy located him.

In a neighboring town is a sign posted, which reads: "This is your. street in your city, keep it as clean as your room in your house." A rather exacting request, but a good motto for any section of our city. Too many citizens, old and young, seem to think that their obligations of neatness and cleanliness ends at the front gate.

William G. Walls of pear Senath died from a gun shot June 20, said to have been fired by Dave Stephens Walls and some companions were intoxicated and disturbed Stephens and his family Sunday night and Stephens fired a shot from a gun to scare them away from his home. They returned the next morning looking for trouble with the above result.

The Fredericktown Auto club has had boys picking up the nails from the streets this week. In a few hours Monday they picked up about half a keg of hig rusty fellows and then some of the machine owners wonder why they have so many punctures. An idea would be for no one to throw nails in the streets nor trash that has glass nails or any metal in it.

An independent reduction and fertilizer plant in north Jefferson county south of the city limits of St. Louis under the protest of fortyone property owners, was ordered closed by the Clayton court. This plant was operated by Edward L. Cassilly and has Lawrence. The forty-one property owners have rich country homes near this plant. The owners claim to have $150,000 invested in the business. According to order of the court the plant will close July 1.

Freight Traffic Manager C. E. Perkins of the Missouri Pacific has notified station agents to refuse to allow consignees of bulk freight to peddle goods out of cars at destination. The use of cars as salesrooms, for the disposal of apples and other freight, has become too common to be tolerated, and the practice is now forbidden not only on account of considerations of economy, also because of the possibility of bodily accident to persons doing business in, on or around freight cars. This order will not allow car load lots of goods to be brought in and sold in competition with the merchants who pay a license and rent on buildings. Fredericktown Tribune.

Drainage district money is beginniar to reach this place. W.J. Misenheimer received $3,000 from the district last Friday. This was for damages that will result to less land. Bud Lewis got his money about $3,-180, three or four weeks aga. Bud. has seven acres of land left. The remainder is to the basin.

Mrs L uan Jackson came over from Poplar Bluff last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles. Steers. Wednesday morning she started for her father's logging comp. which is located across the Nigger Wood swamp, about two miles from Morehouse. The people entertained no fears, as she had been to the camp many times before. Friday morning someone from the camp came to town and it was then learned that Mrs. Juckson had not reached the camp. Searching parties were organized, but while they were out the young woman made her way into camp. She had been wandering through the flooded bottoms two days and nights

There is strong talk in the city of a new paper being put in the local field. It will be a daily as well as a weekly, and if the venture goes through, we have been told it would be a hum dinger, and be second to none between St. Louis and Memphis. The paper will own its own bull hing, have modern machinery, linorenes, press, and a big force of employees or enough to cover all parts of the works. It is said the new paper will be here before snow flies. We believe the town is live enough to support a daily, but the way to find out is to try it. Four papers will be 'quite a few for Carothersville, and it will be, no doubt, a case of survival of the fittest so let er come train today from Taliapoosa reported that a fight took place at that place Sunday which ied into Wren Williams, a prominent farmer of Mo-Guire, being stabbed badly in the left side. It was reported that a crowd of men had assembled for a card game and in the midst of the game an argument grose between Williams and a man by the name of Wammack. After passing heated words at each other Williams is said to have given Wammack a severe beating and after letting Wammack up, the latter drew out a knife and pierced Williams' side. It was feared last night, the parties reported. that Williams would not recover but this morning his condition had improved to such an extent that it was believed he would live.
